Porridge

English

Story Book

www.africastorybook.org
A Saide Initiative

Porridge

Writer: Zimbili Dlamini and Hlengiwe Zondi
Illustration: Catherine Groenewald
Translated By: Zimbili Dlamini and Hlengiwe Zondi
Reformatted for Bloom by: Kent Schroeder

English

Zama is getting ready for school.

Dad is cooking porridge for breakfast.

"Mom makes the best porridge!"
says Zama.

Porridge gives Zama energy for school.

The porridge is ready.

Dad pours the milk,
with love.

"Dad, I think this porridge needs more sugar,"says Zama.

"Mom's porridge tastes much better than Dad's porridge," thinks Zama.

"Dad, please can
I have more sugar?"
asks Zama.

Dad gives Zama
more sugar.

"Wu! Dad! You put salt on my porridge!"

"Dad, when will Mom be home?" asks Zama.